Civil Monetary Penalties Reinvestment

The Center for Medicaid Services Civil Monetary Program (CMP) Reinvestment Projects makes available federal funds (fines) to support creative ideas and innovation that directly impact the quality of life and care of nursing home residents. CMS returns a portion of the funds to the states where the civil monetary penalties (CMPs) are imposed. These funds are reinvested via a grant process to support activities that benefit nursing home residents by improving their quality of care and their quality of life.

Funds may be used for projects supporting activities that benefit nursing home residents or protect and improve their health care. CMP funds may be used for, but not limited to the following:

- Training
- Transition preparation
- Culture change/quality of life
